

The Women's Fund invites all Houston area, college-bound, graduating senior girls to participate in its:

The 6th Annual Barbara Devetski Scholarship Essay Contest
Two winners will each receive a $2,500 scholarship.

Adolescence is a difficult time for young women and yet is the most influential time with regard to their long-term health. The issues that our youth face, concerning their long-term health, include engaging in risky health behaviors, rising rates of obesity, and access to minimal healthcare or lack of health insurance. Teen pregnancies, unhealthy eating, lack of physical activity and substance abuse, are issues that young women face during their middle and high school years and even through college. These issues are even more pernicious if young women do not have accurate health information and do not have a safe place to talk about the consequences of such issues.

Resilient individuals are able to bounce back from difficult situations and overcome challenging situations.

Please submit an essay on the following topic: Resiliency

Your essay should include the following:

- What is the importance of resiliency?
- A time or situation in which you were resilient.
- And what you learned from the situation and how it has prepared you for college.

Essays will be scored based on:

- Essay staying on topic and the clarity of the ideas.
- Correct grammar and punctuation (essays with more than five errors will be disqualified).
- Proper citations of statistics, research, and articles using Modern Language Association (MLA) Style.

Founded in 1979, The Women's Fund is a 501(c) (3) non-profit organization whose mission is to provide Houston-area women and girls with the tools they need to be advocates for their health. This scholarship endowment was generously established by the Hoglund Foundation.
